WaveVision
ROOM STATUS - CONSUMER

Heartland's WaveVision application is a fantastic way for your customers to enjoy the benefits of the WaveRider system.

Now, your residents can know, before they visit the laundry room, how many machines are available for use, and how much time is left on the machines that are currently running.

Once they start the their laundry, they can monitor the status of their cycles, on demand, from the convenience of our easy to use website.

When a cycle is complete, your customers can receive a text message that lets them know their laundry is ready.

- See which machines are available for use
- Verify how much time is left for a cycle
- Get a text message or email when their laundry is finished

ROOM STATUS - CONSUMER

Simple and convenient to use, WaveVision is a great service that you can offer to your WaveRider properties.

The process has four easy steps:

1 Before heading to the laundry room, residents can log into WaveVision to see if there are any available machines.
